INFORMER EATON

He Endeavors to Implicate Schmidt and Cowie in the MAIN STREET FIRE-BUG CASE

Only Resulted in Perjury Indictments Against Himself.

GRAND JURY TO THE GOVERNOR

They Protest Against his Possible Intention to Pardon Eaton if the Other Incendiaries are not Brought to Justice—The Perjury Indictments (the Result of Eaton's Present Story, Which Differs from his Testimony in his own Trial two Years ago—A Very Interesting Case.

There is a peculiar clash on just now between the judicial and executive departments of West Virginia's government, in which Governor Atkinson and the criminal court grand jury of Ohio county are taking the star roles. The trouble arises over the case of William Eaton, sentenced to serve ten years in the penitentiary for setting fire to an over-insured stock of worthless novelties, in the Turner building on Main street. At the time of the trial, 1897, it was known that Eaton was one of a gang of desperate incendiaries, and it was thought he would turn informer after his conviction, but he has kept silent through the advice of his fellow conspirators, and doubtless on their promise to do everything in their power to secure his release. Repeated attempts were made in this direction, including habeas corpus proceedings before Judges Goff and Jackson, of the United States courts, but these ended in failure eventually, and it now turns out that Eaton yesterday turned informer.

Recently, the attorneys of Eaton presented the matter to Governor Atkinson, and entered the claim that Eaton was only the tool of a dangerous gang of incendiaries, and that the authorities of Ohio county had not made the proper effort to bring them to the bar of justice. The governor wrote to Judge Huges and Prosecuting Attorney Meyer, taking the ground that he contemplated pardoning Eaton, unless a strong effort was made to bring the gang to justice. The local officials, although not having any confidence in the state's evidence it was stated Eaton was willing to give against his former confederates in crime, determined to call a special grand jury in order that the matter might be probed to the bottom.

This grand jury was called yesterday in the criminal court, and was composed of Colonel Thomas O'Brien, foreman; T. A. Little, U. M. Hervey, F. A. Blum, Herman Hess, W. H. Exley, C. H. Connelly, F. C. Zarnits, George Crumbacker, F. Schwertfeger, E. R. Metzner, H. F. Nolte, M. L. Etzler, II. C. Caldwell, C. H. Loeffler, Robert Simpson.

William Eaton was the principal witness, and was brought to Wheeling in charge of Superintendent Sam Hawk, of the penitentiary. He told of the personnel of the Chicago fire-bug syndicate which has defrauded so many insurance companies in the central west, and said the operations of the syndicate here were carried out by him under the direction of Frederick Schmidt, alias Frank Smith. Eaton also implicated Cowie, alias Gordon, a man who was formerly employed by fire insurance companies to ferret out incendiaries. Schmidt, he said, commanded him to do everything that was done to carry out the "Wheeling" job, and that Schmidt, although absent when the fire was started, was the guilty person.

Captain Robert McNeel, ex-chief of police, who was largely instrumental in bringing Eaton to justice, was also before the grand jury, and stated that it was a fact that Eaton was not the guiding genius in the conspiracy.

Other witnesses were examined and at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon the grand jury made its report, which not only ignores Eaton's revelations, but also indicts him on three charges of perjury, his present story disagreeing almost entirely from that he told when on trial here in 1897. The grand jury's report is as follows:

State vs. William Eaton, felony, No. 9, perjury, true bill.

State vs. William Eaton, felony, No. 10, true bill.

State vs. William Eaton, felony, No. 11, true bill.

State vs. B. F. Beans, alias John Smith, larceny, true bill.

State vs. Thomas Clark, burglary, true bill.

State vs. Robert Clark, felony, larceny, true bill.

State vs. Jack Forsythe, misdemeanor, larceny, true bill.

State vs. Frederick Schmidt, alias Frank Smith, and Cowie, alias Gordon; indictments Nos. 6 and 8, felony, not true bills.

Accompanying the report was the following letter to Governor Atkinson, signed by every member of the grand jury:

WHEELING, W. Va., May 19, 1899.
To His Excellency, G. W. Atkinson, Governor of the State of West Virginia:

We, the grand jurors of the county of Ohio, medially called and now sitting, this 19th day of May, 1899, having heard the evidence concerning the fire at the building, No. 322 Main street, in the city of Wheeling, on the 25th day of February, 1897, and having heard the evidence of William Eaton concerning said fire, are firmly convinced of the guilt of said Eaton, and that he himself fired the said building, and the goods contained therein. Therefore, we do emphatically protest against the granting of a pardon to the said Eaton.

Accompanying the report of the grand jury, the foreman, Colonel O'Brien, addressed the court, stating that the action taken by the grand jury was unanimous, and that they had been governed solely by a sense of duty in order to prevent, if possible, a gross outrage on society, on the law and on His Honor's court.

It is said to be the intention of Prosecuting Attorney Meyer to push the perjury indictments found against Eaton yesterday.

EPWORTH LEAGUES

Of the Wheeling District. Class Their Annual Convention at Moundsville. Benwood Gets the 1000 Convention. The second and closing day's sessions of the Wheeling district Epworth League convention, at Moundsville, yesterday, were more interesting and better attended than the opening day's proceedings. The programme as previously published, was carried out for the rest of the day. The paper was given by Miss Mamie McFarland of Point Pleasant, and entitled "How to Make the League Successful in Country Churches."

Mrs. Morgan, of Thomson church, Wheeling, had an interesting paper on "My Experience with Mercy and Help Work," followed by Miss Maude Curtis, of West Liberty, who discussed the league's social features.

STATE FAIR PREMIUM LIST

Has Been Published and is the Most Attractive Ever Issued.

The premium list of the nineteenth annual fair of the West Virginia State Fair Association, has just been issued from the Intelligencer press, and is pronounced the most attractive that has ever been issued by the association.

The premiums offered are more liberal than ever before, the races are of a higher class, and with larger purses, and altogether the agriculturist and horseman who receive the premium list will without any hesitation make up their minds that Wheeling and her state fair must be on their 1899 visiting list.

A new department this year is that of pastime photographs. Cup and diploma are offered for four classes, including landscapes, and marines, character studies and groups, snap shots of moving objects, and interiors. As there are 500 or more cameras in Wheeling, and as many more in West Virginia and the over-the-river district, it will be seen that the new department will likely be one of the most attractive of the entire fair.

Bert Schwartz, of the bureau of publicity, has established himself at quarters on Market street, and will be a very busy man during the fair opening. An immense amount of printed matter is to be sent all over the tri-state radius, and it will be started soon.

The Campbell Will.

Yesterday, in the circuit court, Part II, Judge Hervey, the following was entered:

In the matter of the appeal from the order of the county court of Ohio county, admitting to probate the will of A. W. Campbell, deceased. The order entered herein on the eighth day of May, 1899, appointing John Brown, executor of the estate of said A. W. Campbell, and defining his duties, is hereby amended so as to authorize the said curator to invest any monies in his hands or hereafter by him received in reliable bonds, stocks, or other investments, or to deposit the same in some one of the banks of deposit of the city of Wheeling, at a rate of interest not less than three per centum per annum, as may be by him deemed most advantageous to the estate, and so as to authorize him to change any investment already made by him, upon the written consent or approval of either of the judges of said court.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.
Rev. J. H. Little will make the address at the men's meeting at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

The regular young men's meeting will be held this evening at 8 o'clock. Young men are always welcome at these meetings.

The annual bicycle road race will take place Thursday evening, the 25th. The riders in the association are taking a great interest in the race, and there promises to be a good list of entries.

The schedule of the Spring Bowling League will be completed next week. The same pool scores have been made. The different teams will hold a reunion after all the games have been rolled.

The thirty-third biennial international convention of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held at Grand Rapids, May 25 to 28. This will be a large and interesting gathering. The Wheeling association will be represented.

Monument to Lafayette.
NEW YORK, May 19.—The Times says: It has now been definitely decided that the monument to Lafayette, subscribed for by the school children of the United States and to be presented to the French nation, is to be the work of Paul Watkin and Bartlett and George G. Barnard, with Henry F. Hornbush as the architect of the base of the statue. The joint design submitted by the sculptors and the architect has been accepted by the committee and the work on the equestrian statue of the base and the allegorical figures upon the latter will be pushed forward as rapidly as possible.

Had Excellent Sport.
MIDDLE BASIN ISLAND, Ohio, May 19.—Ex-President Grover Cleveland, who has a party of friends, has been fishing in this vicinity for several days past, but will leave for home to-morrow. All the members of the party have had splendid sport, catching large numbers of black bass daily.

FREE Concert by G. A. R. band, 60 pieces at Myers' Lake, next Sunday.

SHORT ON "SYSTEM"

Is the Workhouse, and Police Committee Will Make Improvements. The failure of the council finance committee to appropriate for a new workhouse was a disappointment to the committee on police, which stoutly argues for an inhabitable building to replace the hillside kennel. Nevertheless, the latter committee, which met last night, will attempt to secure a more systematic operation of the workhouse as at present constituted, believing that the expense of maintenance can be lessened.

To further this move, Committee Clerk Worls was instructed to ascertain from Warden Hawk the bill of fare furnished prisoners at the state "pen." Under the present system the city prisoners' bill of fare is rather irregular. There is no account kept—or the committee at least knew of none—of the number of prisoners for every day in the year, the "average daily attendance," as school reports say, or other data necessary to establish a basis of reckoning whereby it can be known what the board will cost. The cost of each prisoner is about 22½ cents a day, but the committee wants this lessened, and besides desires to have more systematic records kept of the number of prisoners and the period of their sojourns.

Present at the meeting were Mayor Sweeney, and Messrs. Watson, Fox, Knobe, and Maurer. Mr. Watson acted as chairman.

Something New!
An unique and interesting entertainment will be given at the First Baptist church next Tuesday evening, by the World Famous Rock Band Concert Co.

Until the noon hour the speakers included: Miss Laura Craig, and Mrs. J. Rose, Wheeling; Miss Verna Johnson, Moundsville; Rev. C. B. Graham, Wheeling; C. E. Goodwin, McMechen; Mrs. J. H. Devere, and Rev. W. J. Harkness, Wheeling; Rev. G. D. Smith, New Martinsville.

The Queen City is Sunday's packet for Cincinnati, departing at 8 a. m. She has large offerings in sight out of the upper river.

The rise has come up to the prediction made in yesterday's Intelligencer. At midnight the marks at the public landing showed 22 feet 6 inches and stationary. Doubtless the river will begin falling this morning.

Captain Henry Ollum, one of the pilots of the steamer Greenwood, died Thursday night at his home, Belpre, O., aged fifty-one years. Captain Ollum got off the boat Wednesday and complained that he was not feeling well, and that night he became unconscious and never regained consciousness. He was a well known packet pilot. He leaves a wife and family of children. A brother is a pilot on the steamer Virginia.

Pittsburgh River News.
PITTSBURGH, May 19.—The Monongahela river reached a stage of 18.2 feet this morning and is now falling. May 19th, the river coming up the river will reach here Sunday with empties and it is thought that there will be sufficient water to enable them to go back south with coal boats. The strong current in the river will delay the boats some.

The following boats departed this morning: Jim Wood, 10 coal boats; Cruiser, 6 coal boats; Jim Brown, 4 coal boats; Dave Wood, 5 coal boats; Charles Hook, 5 coal boats. The following departed yesterday afternoon: Vallant, 12 barges; James Moran, 4 barges; cotton ties, 5 coal boats; 2 barges; John A. Wood, 7 coal boats, 2 barges; Dave Wood, 5 coal boats, a total of 37 boats and 16 barges; a total of 1,102,000 bushels of coal. There will be shipped on this rise 140,000 tons of steel rails and about 5,000,000 bushels of coal. Everything loaded will get out.
